TICKET INFORMATION

Penn State, the top football team in the East, appears assured of retaining its position as the East's top gate attraction as well.

The addition of more than 9,000 seats to Beaver Stadium boosts the capacity of the Nittany Lions' home field to 57,538. More than 330,000 fans are expected to see the Lions' six home games this fall.

Penn State sold out its entire home schedule before the 1970 and 1971 seasons. There is equal interest this year and sellouts are possible despite the increased capacity of the stadium.

As a matter of fact, the Oct. 21 Homecoming Day game with Syracuse officially was declared a sellout on May 22. As of this writing, tickets remain for the Iowa, Maryland, Navy, North Carolina State and Pittsburgh games.

In 1971 the Lions drew a record total of 252,863 fans, an average of 50,573 per game. The average attendance exceeded the former seating capacity by more than 2,000 people per game.

FUTURE SCHEDULES OFFER CHALLENGE

Eleventh game legislation by the National Collegiate Athletic Association has added interest and an intersectional flavor to Penn State's future football schedules.

Coach Joe Paterno's Nittany Lions added Tennessee to their 1971 and 1972 schedules.

Future Lion schedules are equally attractive.

Penn State has added two-time Rose Bowl champion Stanford as an 11th game opponent for 1973, 1974, 1975 and 1976. The last three dates will be at Penn State.

The 11th game opponents add excitement to future schedules that already included such names as Illinois, Miami, Nebraska, Iowa and TCU for the years ahead.

The "regulars" such as Syracuse, Pitt, West Virginia, Army and Navy are permanent fixtures on future schedules.

Beaver Stadium — Home of the Nittany Lions

Penn State, which played its home games from 1909 through 1959 in 30,000 capacity Beaver Field on center campus, moved into the present all-steel stadium in 1960. The original capacity of Beaver Stadium was 46,284. An additional 2,060 seats were added in 1969, pushing the total seating to 48,344. The addition of 9,194 seats this year brings the present capacity to 57,538.

Beaver Stadium is a unique combination of something old and something new. The old stadium was dismantled after the 1959 season and moved in 700 pieces a mile to the new East Campus location. It was reassembled beneath the new superstructure — and now towers 80 rows high on the West Side and 90 rows high on the East Side from goal line to goal line. The closed end of the horseshoe is 40 rows high.

Steel men say Beaver Stadium is the largest all-steel stadium in the country and probably in the world. There are 55,243 permanent seats (43,898 between the goal lines) and room for 2,295 temporary bleacher seats in the open end of the horseshoe. The stadium is named for General James A. Beaver, a former Pennsylvania governor who served for many years as president of the Penn State Board of Trustees.

About the System

The Nittany Lions will continue to play a multiple offense in 1972, with emphasis on the Wing-T and Power-I. Featured will be a wide variety of formations from which the objectives are an attempt to develop balance between effective inside and outside running attacks, and consistent passing.

Defensively, the Lions usually will operate with a four-man line, four linebackers (one of whom may be a rover at times), and a deep secondary of two halfbacks and a safety.

LEGEND OF THE NITTANY LION

Penn State's athletic symbol, chosen by the student body in 1906, is a mountain lion once said to have roamed the central-Pennsylvania mountains. Because Penn State is located in the Nittany Valley at the foot of Mt. Nittany, the lion was designated as a Nittany Lion. Nittany evolved from the word Nita-Nee, which was the favorite cognomen for Indian maidens. Legend tells us that one Nita-Nee, the daughter of Chief O-Ko-Cho who lived near the mouth of Penn's Cave, fell in love with a trader named Malachi Boyer. For this Boyer was imprisoned and forced to die in Penn's Cave. The tearful maiden and her lost lover became legend and her name now graces the stately mountain and the athletic teams of Penn State.

Nittany Lion Dress for 1972

Home — White helmets with blue stripe; Penn State-blue jerseys with white numbers; white pants; blue and white stockings.

Away — White helmets with blue stripe; white jerseys with blue numbers; white pants; blue and white stockings.

THE SEASON OUTLOOK

Penn State, winner of three major bowl games in the last four years, appears headed for another successful season in 1972.

The Nittany Lions, who won the Orange Bowl in 1969 and 1970 and beat Texas (30-6) in the Cotton Bowl on January 1 this year, have a solid nucleus returning on both offense and defense.

The offense will be directed by senior quarterback John Hufnagel, a top candidate for All-American honors. Hufnagel has compiled a record of 16-1 as Penn State's starting quarterback since taking over the job in the middle of the 1970 season.

"Huffy is the best college quarterback in the country," says coach Joe Paterno. "He can do it all — run, throw, handle the ball and he is a leader. If he has the kind of year he is capable of having, he could be the best quarterback Penn State has ever had."

That's high praise from the man who coached such former Penn State standouts as Milt Plum, Al Jacks, Pete Liske, Tom Sherman, Galen Hall and Richie Lucas.

Paterno will have to find replacements for All-American halfback Lydell Mitchell, fullback Franco Harris and flanker Glen Cole; but there are plenty of candidates for the jobs.

Tom Donchez, who had a good sophomore season as a replacement for Harris, appears to have the inside track on the fullback spot. John Cappelletti, a defensive halfback last year as a sophomore, leads the list of candidates for Mitchell's job.

"You don't replace players with the ability of Mitchell or Harris very easily," Paterno says, "but we have hopes for some of our younger players."

Strong Returnees

The offensive line has strong returnees in tight end Bob Rickenbach, split end Scott Skarzynski, tackle Craig Lyle and guard Carl Schaukowitz. Replacements must be found for guard Bob Knechtel, All-American tackle Dave Joyner and All-East tight end Bob Parsons.

Rickenbach has been switched to offensive guard and will battle junior Phil LaPorta for Knechtel's spot in the lineup. There is a similar battle between Mark Markovich and Charlie Getty for the tackle job vacated by Joyner.

The ends could be juniors Gary Debes and Dave Bland. Debes played well as a replacement for Rickenbach in the Cotton Bowl. Bland was a safetyman last year until suffering a knee injury in midseason. Bland and Debes will be pressed by Brian Masella and Dan Natale, a pair of talented sophomores.

The flanker job will go to Scott Skavznski, last year's split end. Other candidates for wide receiver assignments are Joe Jackson and Jimmy Scott.

Hufnagel and Schaukowitch, fraternity roommates, will serve as co-captains of the offensive unit.

Seven Defenders Back

Paterno has seven starters returning to a defensive unit that he compares favorably to the outstanding defensive teams of recent years.

"This year's defense could be as good physically as our great defensive team of 1969," the Lion coach says. "They still have to prove they can make the big play and play with the reckless abandon that the '69 group had."

Leading the list of defenders are three players that Paterno feels rate All-American consideration — end Bruce Bannon, safety Gregg Ducatte and linebacker John Skorupan.

Bannon, an outstanding student in geological sciences, was All-East last year and was voted the Outstanding Defensive Player in the Cotton Bowl.

Ducatte, who calls the defensive backfield signals, will co-captain the Lion defense with Jim Heller. The 240-pound Heller anchors the defensive line from his tackle spot.

Skorupan, a three-year regular as an outside linebacker, is long overdue for post-season recognition. A hard hitter with 4.7-second speed for the 40-yard dash, Skorupan is always around the ball.

Other returnees include Jim Laslavic, a defensive end last year who was switched to linebacker in the spring; Tom Hull, a regular linebacker the second half of the season; and Buddy Ellis, an underrated defensive halfback.

Paterno must find someone to replace All-American linebacker Charlie Zapiec, the defensive captain last year; linebacker Gary Gray, who led the 1971 team in both tackles and interceptions; tackle Frank Ahrenhold; and defensive halfback Chuck Mesko.

Senior Larry Ludwig had an outstanding spring to become the heir apparent for Zapiec's job. Junior Ed O'Neil is the likely successor to Gray. The defensive tackle spot will be fought out between junior Randy Crowder and sophomore Mike Hartenstine. Senior Steve Davis, a "walk-on" who came to Penn State without a scholarship, and senior Steve Stilley are the top candidates for Mesko's spot.

JOE PATERNO SAYS:

A Collection of Paterno Comments on a Variety of Subjects:

—None of this year's rule changes are going to have any drastic effect on the game.

PSU

—It appears that perhaps the defenses will start to catch up with the wishbone and the option play in general. That development would make it more important for us to consider moving the hash marks in 20 yards from the sideline. Moving the hash marks in would give you the whole field to play on and would make it more difficult to handle the option play and play action passes.

PSU

—John Hufnagel is the ideal college quarterback and I think he is the best in the country. He can run, throw, handle the ball and he is a leader. He could be the best quarterback Penn State has ever had if he has the kind of season he is capable of having.

PSU

—Coaches are going to have to be more concerned about rising costs — the money spent in recruiting, scouting, number of coaches and so forth. We may be nearing the limit of what we can expect to receive in the way of income. We have a responsibility to the players in our programs to make sure we are sound financially. We should make sure we aren't wasting money in other areas before we consider making the players sacrifice by going to a program in which financial aid is based on need.

PSU

—This year's defense could be nearly as good physically as our great defensive team of 1969, but this group will have to get more fire and enthusiasm — show that ability to come up with the big play. If they do that, we could be very good defensively.

PSU

—I wasn't too happy with our spring practice. We didn't accomplish as much as I had hoped. We still have a lot of work to do in the fall.

PSU

—This year's schedule looks tough to me. Just about everybody expects to be improved and we have added a tough opponent in Illinois, which won its last five in a row and returns 20 of 22 starters. Tennessee should be one of the top teams in the country.

PSU

—The NCAA has made a positive step in curtailing excessive recruiting practices, but they should now go out and get enough enforcement people so we don't have a situation where we have to count on people turning each other in. It just doesn't work.

The Coaches

JOE PATERNO

Head Football Coach
Penn State University

Joe Paterno is the nation's "winningest" college football coach.

Paterno's six-year record of 53 wins, 11 losses and a tie gives him a winning percentage of .823, tops among major college coaches with at least five years as a head coach.

The Lion coach is the subject of a recent book, Joe Paterno: "Football My Way," by Merv Hyman of Sports Illustrated and Gordon White of The New York Times.

Penn State's football team has been ranked in the Top Ten in four of Paterno's six years and the Nittany Lions have been in the top five three of the last four seasons.

Paterno coached Penn State to 23 straight wins and 31 consecutive games without a defeat, two of the longest streaks in college football history. The Lions also have had a 15-game win streak under Paterno's direction.

Penn State has gone to four major bowl games in Paterno's six years. The Lions won back-to-back Orange Bowl titles in 1969 and 1970 and posted a 30-6 victory over Texas in the 1972 Cotton Bowl.

Awards and honors have accumulated almost as fast as victories. Paterno was national Coach of the Year in 1968 and has been named Eastern Coach of the Year three times. He joined the likes of Stan Musial, Arnold Palmer and Robin Roberts as recipients of the Pennsylvania Award for Excellence in Athletics.

Excellence is really what Paterno is seeking.

"It sounds corny, I guess, but I have a dream," he says. "I would like to see Penn State number one in everything. We are very proud of our program and the type of people we have in it. I want to see them right up on top."

Paterno has turned aside professional football offers that would mean financial security for the rest of his life.

Listening to him explain why gives you a pretty good insight into the man:

"My genuine love for a great University . . . the relationship of a college coach with fine young men at such a vital state of their lives . . . my personal goal of giving Penn State the best of big-time football within the framework of sound academic and financial policies and my deep belief that football can and should be fun and make a strong contribution to higher education."

Paterno, who brings to coaching qualities of intellect and integrity, likes to talk about football at Penn State as the "Grand Experiment."

"We want our players to enjoy football," he says. "We want them to enjoy college. We want them to learn about art and literature and music and all the other things college has to offer. College should be a great time. It is the only time a person is really free. We don't want them just tied to a football program."

And that's the way Paterno recruits. There are no wild promises or empty guarantees. There is no red-shirting or lowering of admission standards. It's made clear early in a player's career that education and academic scholarship are paramount.

This experiment is Paterno's dream of being able to build great football teams without making concessions in vital areas of academic quality.

Paterno almost senses his place in Penn State's football history.

"We are all part of a great tradition started 33 years ago by Coach Bob Higgins and continued under Rip Engle. We have a great responsibility to carry on this tradition."

Paterno has come quite a distance since 1949 when he was a skinny-legged quarterback at Brown whose play caused the late Stanley Woodward to write:

"He can't run and he can't pass. All he can do is think — and win."

But at Brown he quarterbacked two of Rip Engle's best teams (7-2 in '48 and 8-1 in '49) and also played varsity basketball.

Paterno, however, almost missed his calling to the coaching profession, following his graduation from Brown in 1950 with a degree in English Literature.

"I had planned a career in law, or perhaps even politics," Paterno explains, "until Rip told me he had taken the Penn State job and asked if I would go along and coach the offensive backs."

Joe decided to give it a brief try, "just to broaden my experience before going to law school." He had been accepted by the Boston University Law School.

That was 22 years ago.

"I grew to love Penn State so much that after two or three years with Rip I dreamed about nothing other than becoming its head coach someday," said Paterno. "It's the only job I ever really wanted in coaching."

During his 16 years as Engle's assistant he achieved national recognition for his development of quarterbacks like All-American Richie Lucas, Milt Plum, Al Jacks, Tony Rados, Dick Hoak, Galen Hall and Pete Liske.

Born in Brooklyn, Dec. 21, 1926, Paterno attended Brooklyn Preparatory School (Class of '45), where he played in the same backfield with his brother George, coach at Kings Point.

In his senior year at Brooklyn Prep, Joe was the star of an 8-1 team whose only defeat was to St. Cecilia's of Englewood, N.J., a powerhouse coached by the late Vince Lombardi.

Paterno was in the Army in 1945 and 1946, serving part of his tour of duty with the Army of Occupation in Korea. He entered Brown following his military discharge.

Joe married the former Suzanne Pohland of Latrobe, Pa., in 1962. She's a Penn State graduate, Class of 1962. They have two daughters, Diana Lynne (born 4-7-63) and Mary Kathryn (b. 1-13-65) and two sons, David (b. 7-1-66) and Joseph Jr. (b. 10-21-68).

A man with a sharp sense of humor and wit, Paterno loves lively discussions on a wide range of topics — especially politics, current events, history, and of course, sports.

The most exciting aspect of coaching?

"The day in and day out work with young men," Paterno says. "You work with them, work with them and work with them — they have confidence in you and you in them, and all of a sudden on a Saturday afternoon you look up and there are 50,000 people and your players wonder whether they can do the job and you wonder if you've been able to get the job across to them. Then the whistle blows and you're in the middle of things. It's great excitement — a great feeling of pride when the players and coaches get the job done. Of course, you're frustrated when you don't, but this part too is exciting — and part of the whole thing."

Chuck Medlar

Penn State '46
Trainer

Chuck Medlar, head trainer for all Penn State athletic teams, as well as baseball coach, was also head trainer for the United States Olympic Team in Mexico City in 1968.

In 1971 the Lion trainer received two of the top honors of his profession. He was given a 25-year award by the National Athletic Trainers Association and was cited by the Helms Athletic Foundation Hall of Fame "for noteworthy achievement in athletic training."

Medlar, a 1946 graduate of Penn State, attended Allentown (Pa.) High School where he earned letters in football, basketball and baseball. Following a year at Pennington (N.J.) Prep, he entered Penn State in 1938 and competed in football, basketball and baseball as a tackle, center and pitcher, respectively.

He left college in 1941 to play professional baseball with Beaumont (Texas League) as property of the Detroit Tigers and in 1942 moved to Buffalo of the International League.

He entered the Navy December, 1942, serving overseas at Pearl Harbor and Midway as a chief petty officer. Discharged in 1946, he rejoined Buffalo only to have his professional career ended because of a sore arm. He returned to Penn State in September, 1946, as assistant to trainer Jack Hulme and to complete his studies.

When Hulme died that same year, Medlar who had assisted him in 1940 after a knee injury forced him out of football, succeeded him as trainer and in 1948 was appointed to the physical education faculty.

In 1950, 1951, 1952 and 1953 he was selected as trainer for the North team in the Blue-Gray games.

He was a trainer for the U.S. Olympic team in the 1964 Olympic Games in Tokyo and recently was named to the U.S. Olympic Medical and Training Services Committee.

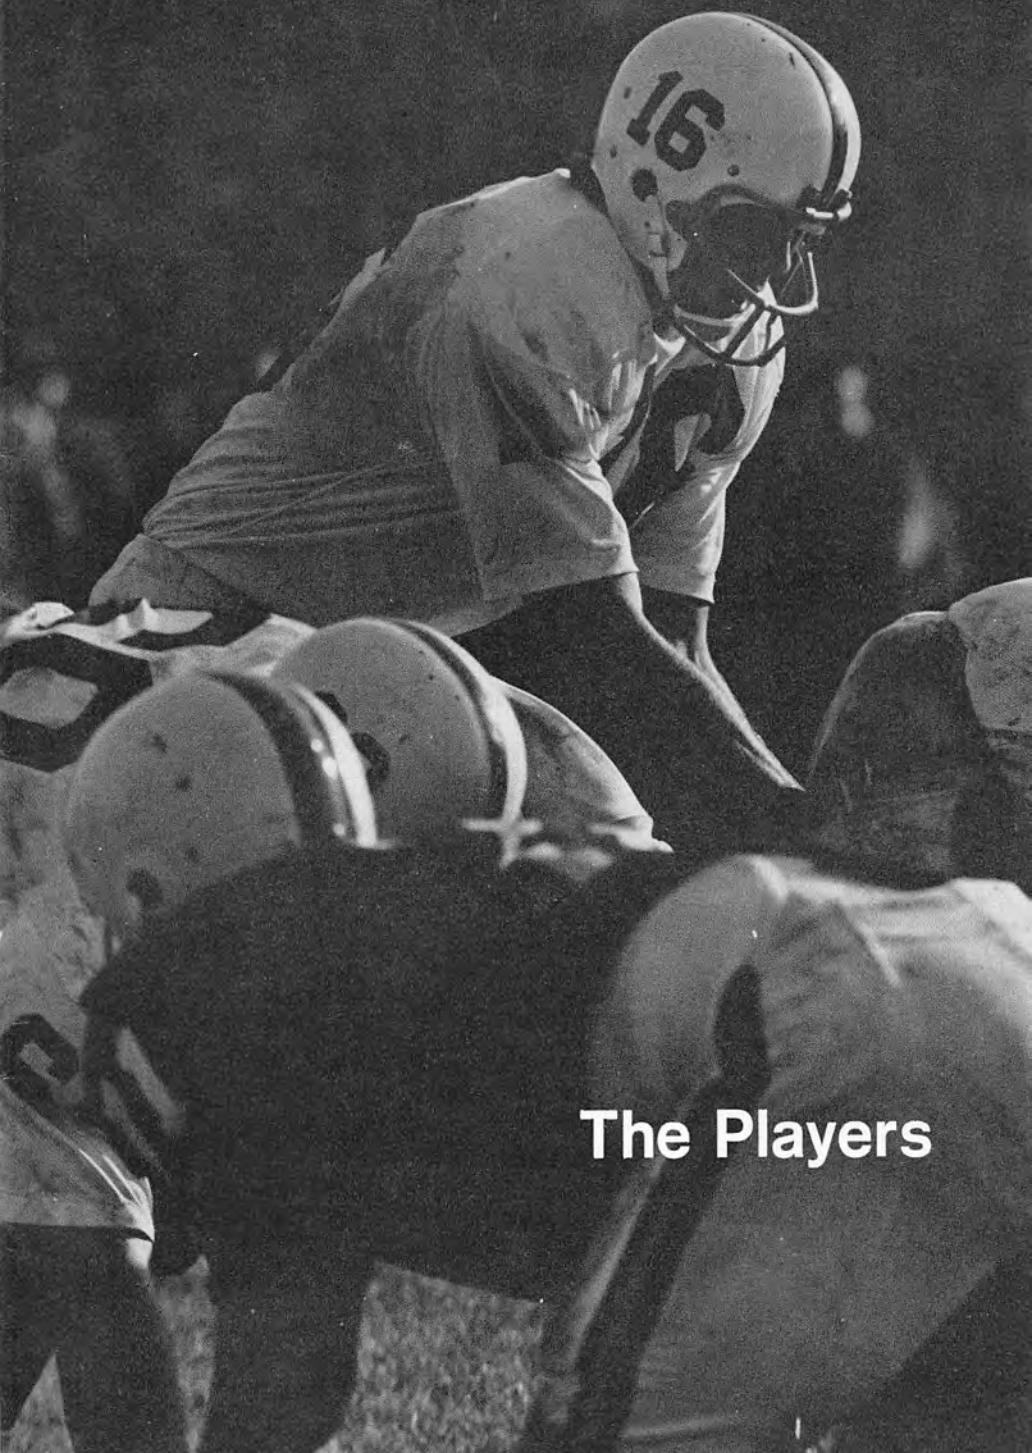

In ten seasons as head baseball coach, Medlar has directed the Lions to 146 victories against just 75 defeats and four ties. Five times — 1963, 1967, 1970, 1971 and 1972 — his teams have won invitations to the NCAA District 2 playoffs, and once, in 1963, the Lions were district champions and an entrant in the College World Series at Omaha.

Fumbles and a determined Iowa defense kept the Nittany Lions bottled up for most of the first quarter at Iowa Stadium. The Lions finally broke loose in the second period, scoring 23 points.

Lydell Mitchell and Franco Harris were the big guns for the Lions. Mitchell carried 29 times for 211 yards and a touchdown, Harris picked up 145 yards and four TDs on 28 attempts.

PENN STATE 16, AIR FORCE 14

The Nittany Lions found themselves in a real dogfight against the Air Force.

Penn State scored first, capping a 41-yard drive on a one-yard plunge by sophomore fullback Tom Donchez. Air Force drove 67 yards to tie the score after the Penn State kickoff.

Penn State regained the lead in the third quarter. A 34-yard interception return by sophomore Ed O'Neil gave the Lions the ball on the AF 11-yard line. Lydell Mitchell scored on a two-yard sweep, but Alberto Vitiello missed the extra point.

The Falcons tied the game on a 19-yard pass from Scott Haynie to tight end Paul Bassa. Craig Barry's PAT gave the Air Force the lead, 14-13.

Penn State's winning drive came midway through the fourth quarter. The Lions culminated a 66-yard drive with a 22-yard field goal by Vitiello.

PENN STATE 42, ARMY 0

Army, a heavy underdog, played Penn State even for the first half; but a Lion touchdown just before halftime seemed to deflate the fired-up Cadets.

John Hufnagel's 14-yard pass to split end Scotty Skarzynski with eight seconds to play was the only first half score. Then the Lions bunched four touchdowns into the first 11 minutes of the third quarter to put the game away.

Lydell Mitchell led the Lion attack again, picking up 161 yards in 22 attempts and scoring three touchdowns. The Penn State defense was unshakable, limiting Army to 164 yards total offense.

PENN STATE 31, SYRACUSE 0

The Nittany Lions spoiled Syracuse's Homecoming festivities with a devastating defensive display.

The offense also played well, particularly in the first half.

Quarterback John Hufnagel scored two touchdowns, then turned the game over to the defense. End Bruce Bannon blocked a Syracuse punt and then blocked the punter as linebacker Gary Gray picked up the ball to complete a 37-yard scoring play. The Lions closed out the scoring in the fourth quarter on a one-yard plunge by Ken Andrews.

The Lions scored almost at will against the Horned Frogs, rolling up 484 yards on the ground and 632 yards total offense.

PENN STATE 35, WEST VIRGINIA 7

West Virginia, which hasn't beaten Penn State since 1955, decided that this was the year. The Mountaineers came into the game in hostile Mountaineer Field with only one loss.

With the score tied 7-7 in the third quarter, the Lions were given possession after a fumbled punt on the West Virginia 45-yard line and drove it in for the go-ahead score. Three more touchdowns put the Mountaineers' hope to rest for another year.

TENNESSEE 31, PENN STATE 11

A combination of Penn State mistakes and an opportunistic Tennessee defense resulted in a 31-11 victory for the Volunteers in a nationally televised game.

COTTON BOWL

PENN STATE 30, TEXAS 6

Stung by the Tennessee defeat — and the abuse they took from some quarters after the game — Penn State's football players looked upon the Cotton Bowl as an opportunity to redeem themselves before a national television audience.

The loss to Tennessee had been referred to by one writer as "the greatest setback to Eastern football since the formation of the Ivy League." Another member of the press referred to Penn State's "Paper Lions."

Adding to the interest of the game was the fact that Texas and Penn State had been embroiled in a controversy over "Who's Number One?" in 1969.

The Cotton Bowl didn't answer that question, but it did prove beyond any doubt who was number one in Dallas on January 1, 1972.

Neither team was able to score a touchdown in a sluggish first half that wound up with Texas holding a 6-3 edge. The Longhorns had moved the ball from their famed Wishbone offense early in the contest, but the Penn State defense began to take control as the game wore on.

The second half was all Penn State. The Lions took the lead for the first time early in the third quarter after Charley Zapiec outraced Jim Bertelsen to recover a fumble on the Texas 41-yard line. A 19-yard run by Lydell Mitchell and a 19-yard pass from John Hufnagel to tight end Bob Parsons helped the Lions reach the Texas one. Mitchell followed a block by Dave Joyner for the first touchdown of the game.

The game-breaker came the next time the Lions got the ball. With a second down and eight situation on the Penn State 35-yard line, Hufnagel faked the sprint-out draw to Mitchell and lofted a pass to split end Scott Skarzynski dashing all alone down the right sidelines.

The damage was done and the defense took over. The Lions controlled the ball for 12:39 of the fourth quarter and won going away, 30-6, as Vitiello set a Cotton Bowl record with two more field goals and Hufnagel scored on a run.

Defensive end Bruce Bannon was voted the Outstanding Defensive Player of the game although it was a team effort that held the Longhorns without a touchdown for the first time in 80 games.

Mitchell was an overwhelming choice as the game's Outstanding Offensive Player. The Lion All-American capped his brilliant career with 146 yards in 27 carries.

Joe Paterno summed up the feeling of the team:

"It is one of the greatest victories in Penn State history. I don't think we've ever had a game that we had to win more than this one."

JOHN HUFNAGEL sprints toward the Texas end zone in the second half of the Lions' 30-6 win in the Cotton Bowl.

LIONS RANK HIGH IN SCORING, TOTAL OFFENSE

Penn State's football teams have always been known for their defensive prowess.

The Nittany Lions hold six National Collegiate Athletic Association records for team defense and the defensive exploits of the 1938, 1947 and 1969 squads are legend.

Not as well known but equally well supported by statistics and facts is Penn State's ability to move the football and put points on the scoreboard. Last year, for instance, the Lions averaged 454.1 yards total offense and scored 41.3 points per game, ranking among the national leaders in both categories.

Last year was not a one-shot deal. Statistics released by National Collegiate Sports Services show Penn State among the team leaders in both scoring and total offense in the last five years.

During the period 1967-71 the Lions rank third in scoring with an average of 33.1 points per game and eighth in total offense with an average of 388.3 yards per contest.

What makes the Lions' offensive performances over the last five years even more remarkable is the fact that the team has ranked high nationally defensively during that same period.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

The list of all-time Penn State football lettermen includes every varsity letterwinner since the sport was officially started at Penn State in 1887.

The Nittany Lions have had 28 players earn four football letters, five men win five letters and one player achieve the unusual distinction of being a six-time letterman. The longevity award goes to L. R. Scholl, who won his varsity S in 1896, 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900 and 1901. Mr.

Scholl became a civil engineer and spent most of his life in Williamsport, Pa., until his death in 1961.

The list of five-time lettermen includes Charles M. Atherton (1890-94), H. P. Dowler (1889-93), R. A. "Bob" Higgins (1914-19), C. C. Hildebrand (1887-91) and J. S. Rumble (1896-1900). Higgins, Penn State's second All-American as an end in 1919, was the coach at his alma mater from 1930 through 1948. Charles Atherton was the son of George W. Atherton, Penn State's seventh president.

Nittany Lions Seek 34th Straight Non-Losing Season

Penn State registered its 33rd straight non-losing season in 1971.

The Nittany Lions last lost more games than they won in 1938, when the record was 3-4-1. Since then, they've had 26 straight winning seasons (1939 through 1964), two .500 seasons (1965 and 1966) and five more winning seasons.

Penn State has posted 219 regular season victories against 79 defeats and nine ties since 1938. The Lions posted unbeaten records in 1947, 1968 and 1969; won Eastern championships in 1947, 1961, 1962, 1964, 1967, 1968, 1969 and 1971; and went to major bowl games following nine campaigns — 1947-59-60-61-62-67-68-69-71.

LIONS SET ATTENDANCE RECORD

Penn State is the top collegiate football attraction in the East.

The Nittany Lions assured themselves of that position by attracting 252,863 to Beaver Stadium for five home games in 1971.

The average of 50,573 fans at each home game is more than 2,000 above the official Beaver Stadium seating capacity of 48,344.

The Lions sold out the entire home schedule more than four months before the first home game of 1971, the second year in a row all seats were sold before the start of the season.

The sellouts and the demand for tickets has prompted Penn State officials to enlarge the stadium to seat 57,538 people for the 1972 season.

The Pennsylvania State University

The Pennsylvania State University was chartered in 1855 as one of the pioneer institutions in a beginning national movement to offer higher education to all classes of society.

By 1862, when Abraham Lincoln signed the land grant act "to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes," Penn State had already awarded its first Bachelor of Scientific Agriculture degrees. In 1863, it was designated as the land grant college of Pennsylvania by the State Legislature.

From humble beginnings, the University has grown to be the twelfth largest in the nation with a student body of more than 45,000 and a faculty of 3,200 members. The University has awarded more than 135,000 degrees.

The University currently offers bachelor's degrees in 118 separate fields. Graduate programs are available in 118 fields.

A distinctive feature of Penn State is a system of 19 Commonwealth Campuses, strategically located throughout Pennsylvania to bring the University within commuting range of virtually every person in the State. These campuses offer the first two years of the baccalaureate degree as well as terminal two-year programs in engineering and related technologies.

The central campus at University Park, located in the heart of the Commonwealth, is devoting more and more of its efforts to third and fourth year undergraduate instruction and graduate work. The Capitol Campus near Harrisburg also offers third and fourth year undergraduate programs and graduate work at the master's level. Other graduate centers are operated at King of Prussia and Erie.

The newest unit in the University is the College of Medicine at the Milton S. Hershey Medical Center in Hershey. Made possible by a $50,000,000 allocation by the M. S. Hershey Foundation, the college graduated its first class this spring.

The University's physical plant comprises 14,775 acres of land and is valued at $280,000,000.

He was promoted to full professor in 1957 and began concurrent duties as administrative assistant to the Chancellor of the Berkeley campus.

Dr. Oswald was promoted to the Office of the President of the state-wide University of California system in 1958. He served as academic assistant to the president, assistant vice president, vice president and executive assistant. He was named vice president for administration in 1962.

Robert J. Scannell

Dean of the College of Health,
Physical Education and Recreation

Dr. Robert J. Scannell succeeded Ernest B. McCoy as Dean of the College of Health, Physical Education and Recreation and director of the Sports Research Institute on July 1, 1970. He had been Associate Dean since 1967.

At Penn State, the position of dean of the College of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation is distinctive in that it combines responsibility for academic programming, intramural and intercollegiate athletic activities, and student recreation in one administrative unit.

Dr. Scannell is chairman of Penn State's Academic Council of Deans.

As administrator of the Sports Research Institute, Dr. Scannell directs a unique program which utilizes coaches, medical personnel and researchers from many disciplines throughout the University in both practical and theoretical study of sports in contemporary society. The Institute was established early in 1969.

The dean is a graduate of Notre Dame, where he received a bachelor of science degree, magna cum laude, in physical education and earned three varsity letters in football. He was awarded the master of science and doctor of philosophy degrees, in physical education, by Penn State.

Edward M. Czekaj

Director of Athletics

When Ed Czekaj (pronounced CHECK-eye) moved into the athletic director's job on July 1, 1969, he brought 16 years experience in athletic administration to the position.

Most of that experience was gained at Penn State under Ernest B. McCoy, the man who recommended that Czekaj move up to the top position.

As athletic director, Czekaj succeeded McCoy, Dean of the College of Health, Physical Education and Recreation and director of athletics since 1952. Czekaj's promotion, in fact, was recommended by McCoy, who continued to serve as dean of the college of health and physical education and director of the Sports Research Institute until June 30, 1970.

Czekaj, 50 years old and a 1948 Penn State graduate, had been associate athletic director since 1967 and business manager of athletics since 1957.

He joined the Penn State staff in 1953 as assistant graduate manager of athletics. In 1955 he became ticket manager and assistant business manager and in 1957 he was promoted to business manager. He was named associate athletic director July 1, 1967.

He was on the athletic staff at The Johns Hopkins University from 1948 until 1951 and was with the Marine Corps in Korea in 1951 and 1952, with the rank of captain.

As an undergraduate, he played varsity football and basketball and was an end on the Nittany Lions' unbeaten 1947 team which played in the Cotton Bowl, Jan. 1, 1948. He received a master of education degree from Penn State in 1954.

In January of 1969 he was named "College Athletic Business Manager of the Year" by the College Athletic Business Managers Association meeting in Los Angeles.

On the national level, he is a member of the National Association of College Athletic Directors, serving on the publications committee of that organization. Active on the NCAA Lacrosse Rules and Tournament Committee, he has served as vice-president, member of the long-range planning committee and chairman of the statistics committee. He is a member of the U.S. Gymnastics Federation Council as well as a member of a special NCAA committee to investigate additional support for championship events which incur deficits. He has been inducted into the Helms Hall of Fame Foundation for business managers.

He has been the meet director for NCAA gymnastics and wrestling championships and in 1968 was cited by the NCAA wrestling rules committee for his outstanding direction of the national wrestling tournament. He also has directed Olympic trials in gymnastics and wrestling and annually serves as director of the Pennsylvania high school championships in track, golf, tennis, volleyball, rifle and cross-country.

On the sectional level, he is chairman of the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) long-range planning committee, a member of the finance committee, member of the Executive Council, president of the Eastern Intercollegiate Gymnastics League and president of the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association.

A native of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., and a 1941 graduate of Ramsay High School where he played football and basketball, Czekaj is married to the former Virginia Gallup (Penn State '48) of Port Allegany. They have two children.

MEMO TO PRESS-RADIO-TV

The material in this brochure was compiled for your convenience in covering Penn State's 1972 football season. Contents of this booklet and changes in plans and personnel will be supplemented before and during the season by the Sports Information Office.

Should you desire additional information, services, or material, contact John Morris or Barry Jones at 235 Recreation Building, Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Pa. 16802, Telephone 814-865-1757.

When making requests for working press credentials allow time for mailing. For late requests, tickets will be left with attendant at press gate immediately behind West stand of Beaver Stadium. If wire or telephone service is required, please make necessary arrangements through your Western Union or telephone office.

WORKING PRESS: Admittance to the Beaver Stadium press box will be limited to the working press only. Press box passes are marked with row and seat numbers and assignments will be made upon receipt of request. Working space in the press box is at a premium, so in some cases admittance is limited to those papers actually covering for Sunday editions.

RADIO: There are six permanent radio booths in Beaver Stadium and facilities to make several additional temporary ones when necessary. One permanent booth will always be occupied by the Penn State Football Network. Another of the remaining permanent booths will be assigned to the visiting team's official station. For comfort, announcing crews should be limited to four persons plus one spotter for each team. Opponent stations should indicate when requesting credentials whether or not they will require a spotter for the Penn State team.

TELEVISION: Penn State's "live" television appearances are designated by the NCAA Television Committee, and facilities will be assigned in accordance with NCAA approval.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Press photographers will be assigned press box or sideline credentials or both, depending on requirements. Field passes are normally limited to daily newspaper, wire service, and magazine photographers with one caption writer or messenger available to each photographer. Field photographers must not stand in front of spectators nor pass in front of players' benches and are not permitted to enter the stands except with special permission. The "press box photo" pass allows the photographer to work on the top of the press box roof, or in any of the enclosed areas of third deck of the press box specifically designated for photographers. The same rules apply to newsreel photographers. Camera crews making the coaching films for the opponent school will be limited to three persons.
